Remember

In recognition of Visa's sponsorship of the FIFA Women's World Cup 2011™, Visa credit, debit and prepaid cards will be the preferred method of payment at all FIFA venues and the Onsite Stadium Merchandise Booths.

1 | To get a Visa credit, debit or prepaid card visit your bank or go to www.visa.com/globalgateway.

4 | Register for sms notification with your specific bank, or your bank's transaction notification service. This allows you to track transactions on your account.

7 | If you lose your card, report it to your issuing bank or financial institution immediately! If you don't know their phone number, contact Visa's exclusive Global Customer Care Assistance toll-free hotline, 0800 8118440.

10 | Carefully review your payment card statements and contact your issuing bank or financial institution immediately if you see any suspicious or incorrect charges.

10 | Carefully review your payment card statements and contact your issuing bank or financial institution immediately if you see any suspicious or incorrect charges.

2 | Remember to notify your issuing bank or financial institution that you will be traveling and that you will be using your Visa credit or debit card abroad to avoid any issues when transacting.

3 | Contact your issuing bank about travel-related benefits for Visa cardholders.

5 | While you're traveling, set up automatic bill pay for your credit card and make sure you have sufficient funds in your debit account.

6 | In case of an emergency, keep records of your account numbers and PINs (personal identification numbers) in a safe and secure place.

8 | Look for the Visa or PLUS logo on ATMs or a point-of-sale to ensure international payment cards are accepted. To find the nearest ATM visit www.visa.com/atms.

9 | Always have a small amount of local currency (Euro), plus a Visa payment card on you while traveling throughout Germany.
